

VISIONS OF GIRLHOOD

The story of Woodford County High School has been written to coincide with the Centenary of the School. Founded in 1919, in the troubled aftermath of war, its history mirrors the time in which it grew and developed. Schooldays in Woodford are remembered through the eyes of young girls over the last century, making it possible to glimpse the world in which they grew up, the customs of the day, their hopes for the future and their changing fortunes as the century progressed.

Lavishly illustrated with more than 50 photographs, the book (pp290), written by Rosemary Davis, Chairman of WCHS Old Girls' Association, will be launched in September. You are invited to pre-order your copy at 20% discounted price of £20 (RRP£25). Postage is an additional £3.50 per copy (UK mainland only).
