

Art Trip Trinity Buoy Wharf

Year 12—7th October 2024

Our visit on 4th October to launch Art School was greatly needed and inspiring. While we weren't expecting much, we found the trip to be a very entertaining day. We began at city island and made our way down to the wharf. The buildings surrounding the London school of ballet were stunning, all labelled with Greek names. As well as other services with beautiful graphic signs already showcasing the creative vision of the space. For someone who loves architecture, taking pictures was very fun. The walk to the wharf was also interesting as we had plenty of opportunity to photograph, we were even given multiple lenses to experiment with on our phone cameras. This made for some unique pictures. The area was surrounded with sculptures and small pieces of 3D art on patches of grass. When we arrived at Trinity Buoy Wharf we were greeted by very unusual, artsy buildings. There was even a café with a car and tree on top. We made a stop at the 2024 Trinity Buoy Wharf Drawing Prize where we were given various mediums like ink, pens pencils and graphite, as well as different papers. We spent some time going through pieces with talks from Ms Appleby & Ms Jerome, before looking around ourselves and recording quick studies of our favourite pieces. During our free time we recorded on site, the landscapes and visual displays. The best part of the visit was lunch with a view of the London skyline and Thames River.
